Dear Mr. Weisberg,

There was one other question that I meant to ask you: Did you send Dr. Carrico a copy of your book Post Mortem? Or, did you send him a copy of your summary of your interview with him?

What I'm trying to find out is if Dr. Carrico was aware of the summary of your interview with him? I'm trying to determine if he knew what you had reported about his comments regarding the throat wound's location (i.e., the comments he made to you on this subject during your interview with him). Was he aware that you had quoted him as unequivocally confirming that the throat wound was above the collar?

Finally, could I purchase a copy of Post Mortem? I have four of your other books, but not Post Mortem, and I hear it is an excellent book. If you'd be kind enough to send me a copy, I would immediately send you payment for the price of the book, plus postage, of course. I don't know what you're charging for the book, but I'd love to purchase a copy of it.

I thank you for your time, and look forward to hearing from you. And please allow me to say that I, for one, deeply appreciate all the hard work you've devoted to the case.

Sincerely,
Mike Griffith
